

General Terms and Conditions

1. General

- 1.1 Any services or delivery of goods by CBG as the seller to the customer ("Customer") shall be subject to the Terms and Conditions set forth herein to the extent no other agreements have been explicitly made. The Customer's general terms and conditions that are inconsistent with the Terms and Conditions set forth herein shall only be applicable to the extent CBG has explicitly approved in writing.
- 1.2 Any claims held against CBG may not be assigned to third parties. Section 354a of the German Commercial Code (HGB) shall remain unaffected.
- 1.3 The sale, resale and the disposal of goods and services including any associated technology or documentation may be governed by German, EU, US export control regulations as well as by the export control regulations of further countries. Any resale of goods to embargoed countries or to denied persons or persons that use or may use the goods for military purposes, ABC weapons or nuclear technology is subject to an official license. Customer declares with his order the conformity with such statutes and regulations, and that the goods will not directly or indirectly be delivered into countries that prohibit or restrict the import of such goods. Customer declares to have obtained all licenses required for export and import.

2. Information, Consultancy

Information and consultancy in relation to CBG's goods and services is provided as deemed appropriate from existing experience. Any values quoted as part thereof, especially performance data, represent average values which have been determined through experiments under standard laboratory conditions. CBG cannot assume any commitment for its products to precisely meet the quoted values and areas of application. Section 10 of these Terms and Conditions governs any issues of liability.

3. Prices

- 3.1 The prices quoted in the order confirmation of CBG shall solely apply. Additional services will be invoiced separately.
- 3.2 All prices are quoted as net prices and do not include value added tax, which is to be paid additionally by the Customer in the amount specified by applicable law.
- 3.3 Unless otherwise expressly agreed, the prices are quoted ex works of the manufacturing company using these Terms and Conditions. The Customer shall bear all additional freight costs, packing costs in excess of standard packing, public fees (including withholding taxes) and duties.

4. Delivery

- 4.1 Unless otherwise expressly agreed, CBG shall deliver ex works (EXW Incoterms) of the manufacturer as indicated in the supply contract, using these Terms and Conditions.
- 4.2 Delivery periods shall only be binding if expressly agreed in writing. Delivery periods shall begin on the date of the order confirmation by CBG, however, in no case prior to settlement of all details relating to an order, including the furnishing of any required official certificates. Delivery periods shall be deemed to be met on timely notification of readiness to ship if the goods cannot be dispatched in time through no fault of CBG.

- 4.3 With respect to delivery periods and dates, which are not expressly defined as fixed in the order confirmation, the Customer may - two weeks after expiry of such a delivery period or date - set an adequate grace period for delivery. CBG may only be deemed to be in default after expiry of such a grace period.
- 4.4 Without prejudicing CBG's rights from Customer's default, delivery periods and dates shall be deemed to be extended by the period of time during which the Customer fails to comply with his obligations towards CBG. In case CBG does not comply with its obligations, CBG shall only be liable for all types of damages in accordance with section 10 of these Terms and Conditions.
- 4.5 CBG may perform partial deliveries and render partial services if such action would not unreasonably affect the Customer.
- 4.6 The Customer may rescind the contract after two unsuccessful grace periods unless the hindrance is merely temporary in nature and a delay would not unreasonably affect the Customer.
- 4.7 Any contractual or statutory right of a Customer to rescind the contract, which the Customer fails to exercise within a reasonable period of time set by CBG, shall be forfeited.

5. Shipment, Passing of Risk

- 5.1. Unless otherwise expressly agreed, shipment shall always be carried out at the Customer's risk. The risk shall pass to the Customer as soon as the goods have been handed over to the person executing the shipment.
- 5.2 If a shipment is delayed for reasons to be attributed to the Customer, the risk of accidental deterioration, loss and destruction shall pass to the Customer on notification of CBG's readiness to ship. Required storage costs after passing of risk shall be borne by the Customer. This shall not affect any other claims.
- 5.3 If the Customer defaults in accepting, CBG shall be entitled to claim refund of any expenditure associated therewith and the risk of accidental deterioration, loss and destruction shall pass to the Customer.

6. Payment

- 6.1 Payment(s) shall be made as agreed for the individual case, or latest within 30 days from the date of the invoice. Payment shall be considered to have been made on the day the payable sum is received by CBG. Bills of exchange and cheques shall not be deemed payment until after they have been honored and will be accepted without any obligation to make timely presentation and timely protest.

General Terms and Conditions

- 6.2 Immediately upon default of payment – or from the due date if Customer is a merchant within the meaning of the German Commercial Code (HGB) – CBG shall be entitled to demand default interest of 8 percentage points above the annual base lending rate. CBG reserves the right to claim a higher actual damage.
- 6.3 Customers may only withhold or offset due payments against their own counter-claims if these are uncontested or have been found to be legally binding.
- 6.4 Any of CBG’s receivables shall be immediately payable in the event of a default in payment, a notice given in protest against a bill of exchange or suspension of the Customer’s payments, independent of the term of the bills of exchange which may have already been accepted. In any of these aforementioned cases, CBG shall also be able to perform remaining deliveries only against advance payment or provision of security, and, if no such advance payment is made or security provided within a two-week time period, to cancel the contract without fixing another extension term. This shall not affect any further claims.

7. Retention of Title

- 7.1 Delivered goods shall fully remain property of CBG (goods sold subject to retention of title) until all receivables, on whatever legal grounds, have been paid in full.
- 7.2 In case of processing, combining or mixing of goods subject to retention of title with goods of the Customer, CBG shall be entitled to co-ownership of the new property inasmuch as the invoiced value of goods sold with retention of title relates to the value of the other involved goods. Where CBG co-ownership becomes null and void due to processing, combining or mixing with other goods, the Customer immediately assigns to CBG those of his rights of ownership in the new property or compound matter which correspond to the amount of the value of goods subject to retention of title by CBG. Customer shall also be responsible for holding such rights in safe custody on the behalf of CBG and at Customer’s own expense. Any rights to co-ownership created as a result of such processing, combining or mixing shall be subject to section 7.1 of these Terms and Conditions.
- 7.3 The Customer may resell, process, combine or mix with other property, or otherwise integrate goods under retention of title in normal business operations, as long as the Customer is not defaulting. The Customer shall be prohibited from taking any other disposition regarding goods for which CBG retains title. CBG shall be promptly notified about any hypothecation or other seizure of goods under retention of title through a third party. All intervention costs will be charged to the Customer if and to the extent that they cannot be collected from such third party. If the Customer grants his buyer additional time for payment of the sales price, Customer shall reserve title in goods resold with retention of CBG’s title under the same terms which CBG has applied when delivering such goods with retention of title.

The Customer shall be prohibited from any other kind of resale.

- 7.4 The Customer shall immediately assign to CBG any receivables resulting from a resale of goods initially sold with retention of CBG’s title. These will be used to substitute the goods under retention of title as collateral of the equivalent amount. The Customer shall only be entitled and authorized to resell such goods if his receivables therefrom accrue to CBG.
- 7.5 If the Customer resells goods under retention of our title together with goods from other suppliers at a certain total price, Customer shall assign to CBG its receivables from such resale in the same amount as stated in the invoice for goods initially sold with retention of title by CBG.
- 7.6 If an assigned receivable is included into a current account, the Customer immediately assigns to CBG that part of the balance which is equivalent to the amount of such receivable, including the final balance from current account operations.
- 7.7 Until CBG gives notice of revocation, the Customer shall be authorized to collect receivables assigned to CBG. CBG shall be entitled to such revocation if the Customer fails to meet his payment obligations under the business relationship with CBG in due course. If the preconditions for exercising a revocation right are fulfilled, the Customer shall promptly notify CBG of any assigned receivables with respective debtors, furnish all data required for collection of such receivables, hand over all related documentation and advise the debtors of such assignment. CBG reserves the right to personally advise the debtors of such assignment.
- 7.8 If the value of the collateral deposited for the benefit of CBG exceeds the amount of secured claims by a total of more than fifty (50) per cent, the Customer shall be entitled to demand that CBG insofar release securities of the choice of CBG.
- 7.9 If CBG claims retention of title, this shall only be understood as rescind of the contract if expressly stated so by CBG in writing. The Customer’s right to possess goods under retention of title shall be null and void if he fails to meet his contractual obligations.

8. Software Rights

- 8.1 Software programs will fully remain the property of CBG or its supplier. No program, documentation or subsequent upgrade thereof may be disclosed to any third party without the prior written consent by CBG, nor may they be copied or otherwise duplicated, even for the Customer’s internal needs apart from a single back-up copy for safety purposes.
- 8.2 The Customer is granted a non-exclusive, non-assignable right to use the software, including any related documentation and updates, for no other purpose than that of operating the product, for which such software is intended. For programs and documentation created and delivered at the Customer’s request, individual licenses for end customers to the extent of a non-exclusive and non-transferable right of use can be granted to the customer in the desired number.
- 8.3 No source codes are provided

General Terms and Conditions

9. Warranty

- 9.1 CBG shall remedy defects if the warranty claim is valid and within the warranty period. It is at CBG's discretion whether CBG remedies the defect by repair or replacement. CBG shall only bear the costs necessary to remedy the defect.
- 9.2 CBG shall be entitled to refuse to remedy defects in accordance with CBG's statutory rights.
- 9.3 The Customer shall be entitled to rescind the contract or reduce the contract price in accordance with his statutory rights, however, the Customer shall not be entitled to rescind the contract or to reduce the contract price, unless the Customer has previously given CBG or its supplier twice a reasonable period to remedy the defect which CBG has failed to observe, unless setting of such a period to remedy defects is dispensable. In the event of rescission, Customer shall be liable for any intentional or negligent actions that cause destruction or loss of the goods as well as for failure to derive benefits from the goods.
- 9.4 If CBG maliciously withholds disclosure of a defect or gives a quality warranty in accordance with section 444 of the German Civil Code (a representation by the seller that the goods will have certain qualities at the time the risk passes and acceptance by seller of strict liability in the event that they do not), the Customer's rights shall be governed exclusively by the statutory provisions.
- 9.5 Any rights of the Customer to receive damages or compensation shall be governed by the provisions in section 10 of these Terms and Conditions.
- 9.6 Specifications of CBG's goods, especially pictures, drawings, data about weight, measure and capacity contained in offers and brochures are to be considered as average data. Such specifications and data shall in no way constitute a quality warranty but merely a description or labelling of the goods.
- 9.7 Unless limits for variations have expressly been agreed in the order confirmation, such variations shall be admissible that are customary within the trade.
- 9.8 CBG shall not accept any liability for defects in the goods supplied if they are caused by normal wear and tear. This especially applies to X-ray generator-tube modules. The Customer shall have no rights against CBG in respect of defects in goods sold as lower-class or used goods.
- 9.9 Any warranty shall be void if operating or maintenance instructions are not observed, if changes are made to deliveries or services, if parts are replaced or materials used that are not in accordance with the original product specifications by CBG, unless the Customer can show that the defect in question resulted from another cause.
- 9.1 Customer shall be obliged to notify defects to CBG in writing.
- 9.11 The limitation period for claims for defects is 12 months.

10. Limited Liability

- 10.1 In case of a breach of contractual obligations, defective deliveries or tortuous acts, CBG shall only be obliged to compensate damages or expenses – subject to any other contractual or statutory conditions for liability – if CBG has acted intentionally or with gross negligence, or in cases of minor negligence, if such negligence results in the breach of an essential contractual duty (a duty the breach of which puts the fulfilment of the purpose of the contract at risk). However, in case of minor negligence, CBG's liability shall be limited to typical damages which are foreseeable at the time of the conclusion of the contract.
- 10.2 The purchaser resp. operator of CBGuard X-ray systems is solely responsible for compliance with official and individual safety regulations. This applies in particular to the observance of the safety distance for persons when the X-ray equipment is active. The operating instructions for the X-ray system must be followed.
- 10.3 The liability of CBG for losses caused by late delivery due to minor negligence shall be limited to 5% of the agreed purchase price.
- 10.4 The exclusions and limitations of liability in sections 10.1 to 10.2 shall not apply in cases of a quality warranty in accordance with section 444 of the German Civil Code (see section 9.4), in cases where CBG has maliciously failed to disclose a defect, in case of damages resulting from death, injury to health or physical injury or where the laws on product liability impose overriding liabilities which cannot be excluded.
- 10.5 The limitation period for claims against CBG – based on whatever legal ground – shall be 12 months from the date of delivery to the Customer and in case of tortious claims, 12 months from the date the Customer becomes aware or could have become aware of the grounds giving rise to a claim and the liable person, had the Customer not been grossly negligent. The provisions in this clause shall neither apply in cases of intentional or gross negligent breaches of duty nor shall they apply in cases referred to in section 10.3 of these Terms and Conditions.
- 10.6 If the Customer is an intermediary seller of the goods obtained from CBG and the final purchaser of the goods is a consumer, the limitation period for any action of recourse against CBG by the Customer shall be the period specified by statute.
- 10.7 The liability of CBG for software supplied by CBG shall be limited to liability for losses or alteration of data caused by the program; however, CBG shall not be liable for any losses or alteration of data which could have been avoided by the Customer's compliance with its duty to secure such data at appropriate intervals and at least once per day.

11. Industrial Property Rights, Copyrights

- 11.1 In the event of claims against the Customer because of breach of an industrial property right or a copyright in using deliveries or services supplied by CBG in accordance with the contractually defined manner,

General Terms and Conditions

CBG Conveyor Belt Gateway
Bernd Küsel e.K.
Schafshagenberg 31A
21077 Hamburg, Germany
www.cbg.website/legal.html
HRA121777

the manufacturer shall endeavor to obtain the right for the Customer to continue using such deliveries or services, provided that the Customer gives immediate written notice of such third-party claims and the supplier's rights to take all appropriate defensive and out-of-court actions are reserved. If, despite such actions, it proves impossible to continue using the deliveries or services supplied by CBG under reasonable economic conditions, it shall be understood as agreed that CBG may, at the discretion of CBG, modify or replace the particular delivery or service for removal of a legal deficiency, or take back such delivery or service with refunding of the sales price previously paid to CBG less a certain deduction to account for the age of the delivery or service in question.

- 11.2 The Customer shall have no further claims alleging infringement of industrial property or copyrights provided CBG has neither violated essential contractual duties nor intentionally or grossly negligently breached contractual duties. CBG shall have no obligations in accordance with section 11.1 in case breaches of rights are caused by exploiting the deliveries or services supplied by CBG in any other manner than contractually defined or by operating these together with any other than CBG deliveries or services.

12. Disposal

- 12.1 The Customer is obliged to ensure the correct disposal of the goods in accordance with the applicable law.
- 12.2 In case the Customer is a merchant, Customer shall be obliged to dispose the goods at its own costs. Customer shall be obliged to transfer this obligation on the purchaser of the goods or parts thereof in case of a resale of the goods.

13. Confidentiality

- 13.1 Unless otherwise expressly stipulated in writing, no information provided to CBG in connection with orders shall be regarded as confidential, unless their confidential nature is obvious.

14. Miscellaneous

- 14.1 The place of jurisdiction, provided that Customer is a merchant, a legal person under public law or a special fund under public law, shall be Hamburg, Germany, using these Terms and Conditions.
- 14.2 Governing law shall be the law of Germany to the exclusion of international conflict of laws, provisions thereof, and with the exclusion of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG), provided that Customer is a merchant, a legal person under public law.
- 14.3 Should any of the clauses of these Terms and Conditions be wholly or partially invalid or void, the validity of the remaining clauses or parts thereof shall not be affected.